

Modding Q&A

Q. Can I dual boot an official NAND and a modded NAND to go online safely?

A. Yes. If you install a TX DemoN, Squirt Dual NAND, Matrix Trident, or "NAND Sandwich mod", you will have a second (or third with Trident) NAND to boot from. This allows you to have one unmodified NAND for safe online play, and a second modified NAND for offline play.

Q. Can I update my games without going on XBL?

A. Yes. Aurora can download updates from XboxUnity, which hosts game updates.

Q. Can i stream games from network storage?

A. Yes. ConnectX

One useful feature of Aurora and FreeStyle Dash is the ability to stream games over the network using a plugin called ConnectX. This means that you can make backups of your games and store them on a PC, NAS, or any other Samba-capable device and play them without having them stored on your console or external hard drive. ConnectX is an official development kit tool, so it can not be distributed here.

Q. Can i play online?

A. Kinda. Enable liveblock and livestrong and it wont let you on xbox live. So you need to use stealth services:

- free stealths
 - free stealths:
 - proto (you cant mod/cheat)
 - xbnetwork
 - teapot live core/light
- paid stealths:
 - xbonline
 - ninja
